The leaders of the California Democracy cannot stand Greeley In addition to the list heretofore published as refusing to support him, we have now to chronicle Gen Thomas N Cazneau, late Secretary of the Democratic State Central Committee, and Adjutant General of the State during the administration of Governor Haight Robert C Page, Esq, the well known broker and financier, E A Rockwell, late editor of the Sacramento Reporter, the State organ of the Democracy

Hon George Bancroft, United States Minister to Prussia, writes from Berlin to Gov Morgan, Chairman of the National Republican Committee as follows "I hope my dear sir, that our State of New York will give its vote for Grant and Wilson The free States of old, the States north of Mason and Dixon's line, might of themselves give the ticket votes enough to make the election sure The movement in Missouri has simply sent Blair to the Senate, the same movement, if successful in the United States would call to power the worst element of secession"

The fine stock brought to Oregon last year by S G Reed was taken to the Fair ground at Salem last Sunday, and will remain till the close of the State Fair The list embraces some of the finest bloods in the United States—15 head of cattle, 24 sheep, 6 to 8 hogs We are informed that the fine imported stock of Messrs Stewart, of North Yamhill, will also be on exhibition, besides horses from Southern Oregon—colts of the celebrated racers Norfolk and Lodi—and the Percheron horses, owned by Mr Wyatt, of Jacksonville Mr J L Parrish, of Salem, has a fine collection of choice poultry, raised by him from imported eggs which will also prove an attractive feature of the Fair

Mr Ladow's bill to remit all sums of money due the State from Umatilla county and to appropriate $6,000 to satisfy a judgment against the county in favor of the School Fund, was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means [In a previous report this amount was incorrectly stated at $36 000]

Mr Andrews's bill authorizing a loan of $10,000 to build an Academy at La Grande on a second reading, was referred to the Committee on Education.

Mr Simpson's bill, amending section 26, title 3, general laws, granting the right to corporations incorporated under the laws of any other State, or of any foreign country not prohibited by the constitution or laws of the State from carrying on business in this State, to hold use or dispose of their incorporation name, and all real estate necessary to carry into effect the object of the incorporation Mr Cranor could not let the bill pass without recording his objections The object of the bill was not to amend section 35, but enlarge it. To him it had an import positively obnoxious He did not object in the right to foreign corporations establish'd in business in the State, if these corporation were under proper control He was ever ready to extend a helping hand and to ... the spirit which opened the way to the establishment of home industries but could not give his influence to the adoption of the bill, which gave almost unlimited powers to foreign corporations If they wished to establish themselves here let them be governed by the laws of the State, not the laws of Germany France or Great Britain.

Mr Simpson was surprised that the Representative from Linn should give utterance to such statements He did not desire to see the State built up and filled with foreign corporations but under the present ... they could not establish in the State, and under the present act none could do so unless they conformed to the Constitution and general laws of the State

Mr Copies, in support of the bill, insisted that the present money crisis in the State the ill effects of which we are all experiencing to a greater or less degree, is owing largely to the narrow illiberal policy of the former Legislature in holding out inducements for investment of foreign capital A plain illustration of the effects of such legislation can be seen in comparison of the relative positions occupied by California and Oregon California, by holding out large inducements for investment of foreign capital, and by inviting competition of the world, had grown to be almost an empire within herself while Oregon with her splendid facilities for manufacturing with agricultural advantages unsurpassed, mineral resources undeveloped, was practically an outpost of California In illustration of the advantages resulting from the introduction of foreign capital the speaker mentioned several foreign houses in Portland which by a distribution of their large wealth, materially assisted in building up the commercial position to which our advantages entitled us The Speaker, in conclusion, stated that such was the importance of the bill that he would like the consideration thereof postponed until the legislators might better acquaint themselves with the provisions of the bill

Mr Simpson moved to postpone further consideration till to-morrow Carried

The bill amending the duties of the State Treasurer, the bill amending laws concerning election of certain county officers, and the bill to protect out-of-door worship were introduced and passed to first reading

Ladow introduced a bill authorizing a loan of $10 000 for building two academies in Umatilla county Adjourned.

The Jacksonville Sentinel of the 14th has the following "Tucker and Howard have, under instructions from the Surveyor General, commenced the re survey of the meander lines of Link river and Klamath lake and will extend the survey to the permanent water line The work is being done under special instructions from the Commissioner of the General Land Office and as the present lines were established during the early part of a very wet season the new survey will throw many thousands of acres of valuable hay land, which are now claimed as swamp open to homestead and pre emption settlers This will reduce the swamp land survey of J N T Miller in that neighborhood last season to very small proportions, and will enable the settlers there to secure their titles in spite of the swamp land cormorants"

An immense quantity of wheat is being stored at Corvallis, Junction City, Tangent Albany, Independence Salem and other points on the Wallamet and on the line of the railroad

TUESDAY MORNING SEPT 24 1872

The Geneva Tribunal

It is now known that the High Court of Arbitration at Geneva has awarded to the United States about the sum of $15,500,000 of English gold in satisfaction of the Alabama claims. In this result the present Administration has won one of the greatest triumphs of diplomacy, or rather of statesmanship of modern history. It is a triumph which rises above mere diplomacy and places the names of Grant and Gladstone the leading spirits of the two contending parties in the front rank of the statesmen of the age. It is a triumph all the more glorious because it is tarnished with no stain of human blood. It is a triumph of the advanced christian civilization over the older method of a resort to the sword. If the American Government had not been awarded a single dollar, if she had gained nothing but the glory of having inaugurated a plan of adjusting international difficulties in accordance with the demands of a high progressive civilization, she would have gained enough to have crowned with immortal honors the administration at whose head stands a successful military chieftain whose skill in directing the ship of State is only equalled by his courage and resources in the management of armies on the theater of war. By this result is ushered in the reign of universal peace, it being the establishment of a precedent by which all international difficulties may be amicably and honorably settled, according to the just and equitable principles of international law. It is a triumph, not because of the money award which has been made, but because it has settled a principle which no respectable Government will hereafter deny and escape the contempt of mankind. It has fixed the limit to which neutrals may go and beyond which they must expect to be held strictly accountable for their acts. America has won from the august tribunal an acknowledgment of the righteousness of her position upon the great question between her and the Government of Great Britain, and the justice of the demand she, in her complaint, made against that nation, and though she has won a substantial reparation of the damage inflicted, the vindication of her position is of much greater moment. The United States could well afford to lose a few million dollars by the illegal acts of a neutral Government, but having arisen as she has to a foremost place among the nations of the world she could not afford to stand up as the contestant for a principle which the great and legal minds of the age pronounce as an error on the part of good government. The result obtained will be as gratifying to our national pride as were the means by which it was peacefully achieved. The recognition of the legality and justness of our position and the palpable reparation, are among the most brilliant achievements of Gen Grant's administration and in proportion to the general satisfaction with which they have been hailed throughout the United States, the people against whose Government the High Tribunal has been solemnly entered will inevitably feel a sort of chagrin that will take some time to wear off. As an indication of the disposition of our British cousins to chafe under the decision, and the way in which the average Briton feels about it we give the following from the London Advertiser

> The plain English of it is—the British Government has allowed the Americans to bully us out of three or four millions of pounds to curry favor with them, and then modestly "congratulates us" upon paying the amount of the settlement of claims for which a few weeks ago it was affirmed that England was neither legally nor morally liable.

But whatever of chagrin, at the result may now be felt, will, in a sober and deliberate consideration of the whole question by the English people, give place to the conclusion that the great question has been settled in full accord with right principle, and that a cheerful acquiescence in that principle is the true theory of a high minded and progressive government, and thus will this great event begin a new era in the history of national ethics and be a harbinger of the coming of the universal reign of peace in the civilized nations of the globe

The Bourbons

Notwithstanding the fact was gathered up greedily by the Democratic press and sent broadcast throughout the country that the Louisville Convention was a failure, it still seems probable that the Bourbons as they are called, will give the Greeleyites a vast deal of trouble before the blasts of November shall have blown by. In several of the States where Horace's supporters counted on majorities for Chappaqua, the Anti-Bargain-and-Sale Democracy are making complete preparations to inaugurate the campaign and push it to the bitter end in support of what was once called the "time honored principles" of the Democratic party. This defection from Greeley is retarded somewhat by the fact that the great majority of those who have rushed furiously out of the "Democratic Troy" to pull in the "Liberal horse" were the men who had assumed the leadership of the party, and thus the mouth pieces of the party only have been heard and that not in speaking the real sentiments of Democracy, but in their normal tones crying for office and demanding place. It is the office seekers and demagogues of the party who have gone over to Greeley or rather to whom Greeley has gone over, and when once the Straightouts are well organized and have a fair chance to speak it will be seen that the number of them is not so insignificant as our Baltimore Cincinnati fusion friends think. The Louisville Convention may not have been successful, in fact, it was not, but its failure is not attributable to a lack of Democrats among the masses who refuse to coalesce with the portion who sold out their party at Baltimore.

The Democratic leaders in Nevada are playing a nice little game at the expense of their "Liberal Republican" allies. They are preparing to give the Liberals all the important places on the ticket except those of the members of the Legislative Assembly. By this means they expect to secure the election of a Senator of their own kind. The [illegible] mation for the accomplishment of which alone the Greeley Republicans deserted their party—such a return [illegible] would place them in possession of the [illegible] not [illegible] is to take place [illegible] in the State of Nevada. No matter what [illegible] the fight the Liberals [illegible] have a slim show for loaves and fishes.

There is great excitement in San Francisco over the supposed discovery that the railway corporation to which the Board of Supervisors has granted a large subsidy has been corrupting the members of that body. Charges of bribery to the amount of $300,000 are made and the matter is about to be investigated in the courts.

The People Demand Fair Dealing

Yesterday we took a run up to the Capital and back. It is impossible in the two short hours to which the connection of the trains limits one's stay if he wishes to go and come the same day to make a very thorough reconnoissance of the battle field but from what we did see we should not think the situation a very favorable one for the ring. The people are speaking in different parts of the State and appear to be more nearly united in opposition to the unusual and oppressive course pursued by the ring on the caucus question than we have ever before known them to be on any question. Remembering the action of 1866 and seeing that the men who broke up the caucus and defeated the nominee of the party at that time, are loudest in their demand on a caucus now and will be its chief manipulators, Republicans naturally feel that if they go into caucus and succeed in nominating their candidate the ring will find means to get up a bolt and defeat the nominee again. There is the best possible reason for this suspicion. The past conduct of a man is the safest criterion by which to predict his future course, when similarly situated. Looking at the matter from this stand point, it is morally certain that if the ring candidate Mr Mitchell should not be able to secure the caucus nomination by those ways that are dark and tricks that are vain, by which the ring has been in the habit of forestalling and thwarting the will of the Republican party a bolt would certainly follow, with the disastrous consequences which resulted from the bad faith of the same parties in 1866. To guard against a repetition of that transaction, and thus to avoid its baleful results—to preserve the unity and integrity of the party and secure that unanimous co-operation of all its members in its future action, which has always followed the election of a Senator in open convention without the dangerous machinery of the caucus the Republicans throughout the State, wish their representatives to listen to no sophistry and submit to no dictation at the hands of the ring. The plain honest old fashioned way of going into convention and voting in the light of day, is the safest way, because it is the least liable to the corrupt practices into which men and parties are too frequently betrayed by the wiles of ambitious politicians

Germans Consolidating for Grant

An important and sensible address was issued on the 17th inst by the German Grant and Wilson Club of New York city, which will probably lead to the consolidation of all the German Clubs in that city, in the support of the Republican nominees for President and Vice President of the United States. Responses have been made by Germans of both the Republican and Democratic parties, and the prospect is that a serious defection from the Greeley ranks will follow. Gen Sigel and other prominent Germans are associated in the movement. The address says "As the former narrow basis of the two great political parties are destroyed, the future policy of our Government must therefore adopt the new order of things. The Executive and Congress must abolish old abuses and respect the demands of all the people without reference to party. They must maintain by wise measures the existing laws of peace and order, revive harmony between North and South, reform our civil service system, and promote by all possible means the welfare of the people. Under this general programme we have associated ourselves, Republicans and Democrats, and we believe we will find in the election of Grant and Wilson a better guarantee for the realization of our views than in the success of the Cincinnati ticket."

WHAT MR MITCHELL KNOWS ABOUT CARRYING PRIMARIES—The next election succeeding the Presidential election of November 1864 was the State election of 1866, when Mr Mitchell and Mr Gibbs were candidates for United States Senator. At the primary meeting, held March 20 1866, in the largest precinct in Multnomah a precinct which sent twenty two delegates to the County Convention, a large number of Democrats came in and began to take part in the primary. Some of the Republicans present, considering this an unfair way of conducting Republican primaries, offered the following resolutions

Resolved, That a person who voted for President Lincoln shall be entitled to vote at this election, and not otherwise

Resolved, That in case a person's vote is challenged, or there is doubt in the minds of the officers of this convention as to the qualification of a voter, the name of such voter shall be written on his ballot, and if it shall be found by them that such person is not entitled to vote as provided in these resolutions, the clerks shall not count such vote

Mr Mitchell moved to strike out these resolutions. The motion was opposed by Dr W H Watkins, Hon S M Gilmore, and others on the ground that a large number of Democrats were present and participating in the meeting, who never had voted a Union ticket in their lives and never intended to. Mr Mitchell's motion was carried, the Democrats voting for it

Dr Watkins then offered the following

Resolved, That any man who voted at the last Presidential election for McClellan, shall not be permitted to vote in this precinct meeting

Mr Mitchell opposed this resolution and it was voted down at the Democrats [illegible] again [illegible]. We are prepared with the proof of these facts. It is scarcely necessary to add that Mr Mitchell carried that primary and the Multnomah members were solid for him in the Legislature—so solid that they bolted the caucus nomination in his interest

Those who were present at both say that the primary of 1866 was perfectly honest and respectable compared with those by which the Republicans of Multnomah were [illegible] of their rights as members of the party at the [illegible] primaries

Several members of the Legislature informed us yesterday that they were in receipt of numerous letters from their constituents urging them to stay out of caucus and vote for Mr Corbett for Senator. Any candid man who will take pains to learn the public sentiment will be convinced that at least two out of every three Republicans in the State prefer Mr Corbett before Mr Mitchell. Here in Multnomah where the ring has had its most perfect sway Mr Corbett has a large majority of all the steadfast Republicans.

Some days after the nomination of Gov [illegible] over Mr Mitchell in the caucus of [illegible] and while the bolters were standing out [illegible] of Mr Mitchell's special supporters and [illegible] his confidence more probably [illegible] a friend [illegible] that telegram is now at [illegible] for Mitchell and can [illegible]

FROM THE CAPITAL

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT]

SALEM Ogn, Sept 23 1872

The Sabbath day's rest is a fine thing for the politicians, but it plays the mischief with the searcher after information for the general public. Members go home or to visit friends, lobbyists go to Portland and [illegible] business and politics receive a severe check. The train this morning however brought [illegible] the passengers [illegible] loaded with [illegible] ing them country [illegible] for consideration [illegible] which we will not [illegible] and already the great Senatorial fight is in full blast. I speak of this matter first because although there are many other matters discussed and some of deep interest to the State all are made subservient to this one question and the fate of bills innumerable from acts incorporating little villages up to the act for the erection of State buildings all are made dependent on the conduct of their friends in this one particular. It may not be just to the people but it is the way of the world, and if the voters don't like it let them send other men next time, and be assured they will do just the same way when they get here

It is surprising and interesting to observe the facility with which the American mind acquires ideas and the rapidity with which some men become skilled in all the arts of the professional politician. Men come here from the rural districts strong in their faith in human nature, open in their expressions of conviction and confident in their ability to represent their constituents. One week is sufficient for them to learn to distrust their acquaintances and friends and at the end of the second, only those with remarkably good heads know what the people want or what they want themselves or if they do know they take care that no one learns it from them and the resulting talk among outsiders. Sometimes malicious people even throw out suspicions concerning the causes of some of the changes that take place, but that is unkind. For instance, an honorable member of the Legislature visited some adjoining counties six or eight weeks ago and labored to get up a united opposition to what he called the "corporation ring". When the Legislature met he took an active part in the opposition to a secret caucus—in fact, was too radical to suit some of his co laborers until one evening he had a private interview with what he called the "ring candidate" and next day he was on the other side. Of course you, Mr Editor, and I, who know the integrity and good faith of every one in public life would never think of anything wrong about that, but when those having less knowledge of the sterling virtue of all office holders hear of such doings and call it a sale or a fraud we can hardly blame them for looking at it from their own standpoint. No doubt that gentleman was convinced by the logic of the arguments of that half hour and no doubt he was just as honest in his convictions one way as he had been the other way the day before, but he must not be surprised at finding it hard to make the people at home see it in that light. He certainly forgot to shun the appearance of evil

Another thing that attracts attention is the number of

VOX POPULI

The people at home are making themselves heard. Every hour petitions, letters and messages are coming in urging the delegations from the various counties to stand up for them against the encroachments of any selfish interest, rich or poor. What effect this will have remains to be seen but there need be no doubt in the mind of any member as to how his constituents feel in regard to the election of a Senator

THE STATE FAIR

Every indication points to a very successful meeting of the State Agricultural Society next Monday. Already fine stock is coming in from different parts of the State. The buildings are being enlarged and improved, accommodations are increased, the weather promises to be propitious and a good time and large crowd is predicted by all good judges

Letter from Douglas County

ROSEBURG, Sept 22, 1872

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Seeing not even an "occasional" correspondence from this place, I think that a few lines will come acceptable

Everything politically wears a cheerful aspect. There are a few "interested" men who are very anxious to see Mr Mitchell our U S Senator for the next six years but the popular feeling, among the thinking portion of Douglas county, is for Mr Corbett. Several petitions have been in circulation the past week for the purpose of urging our members of the Legislature to go into caucus and elect a Senator. Several signed that petition unthoughtedly, who have since put their names to a petition which reads "Corbett caucus or no caucus," and I am informed that Douglas Representatives and Senators will "stick" for the "people's choice." To-day's issue of the Plaindealer, which, by the way is an energetic and enterprising paper, and is receiving a deserved patronage, comes boldly out upon the Senatorial question, and its course is approved by nearly all our Republican citizens

GREELEY NOWHERE

For the honor of "old Democracy" be it known that few and only a few old timed Democrats can be found publicly advocating the cause of the whilom Republican. There is one man here who trumps for Greeley, but he is not and never has been, either a Democrat or a Republican. He is a man who has been beaten by his own party for every office that he has asked for—hence he has formed a coalition with the Tammany ring and goes in for "Anything to beat Grant and the Republican party". A prominent Democrat remarked to me a few days since that Greeley was the bitterest pill that he ever had given him to swallow by his party and that if Charles O'Conor accepted he would leave the Greeley faction and support the regular Democratic candidate. He is not alone many others would have done the same had O'Conor accepted the nomination

IMPROVEMENTS

The bridge across the Umpqua at Winchester will soon be completed. The gap just north of town is nearly finished. There are also some handsome private improvements and Roseburg can now boast the finest hotel south of Portland

ETC

Ere this you have heard the particulars of the stage accident near Myrtle creek. Mr Simpson the driver is not as badly hurt as was reported although he received injuries that will incapacitate him for duty for several weeks. His left shoulder was dislocated and he was otherwise injured

Rain has been falling here very plentifully all day and will start our crop of grass a little earlier than last year

CELSUS

We have before alluded to the numerous falsehoods which find their way into our Democratic contemporaries under the head of campaign notes. As a sample take the following from the Herald of a few days ago

The County Clerk of Marshall county, New York, who was elected by the Republicans has declared for Greeley and Brown

This is a very small straw and low at that [illegible] might have been destroyed [illegible] the fact that no county by the name of Marshall is to be found in New York. But the [illegible] is about as near the truth as any others to be found in the Democratic organs

The Republican members of the Legislature appear to be of the opinion that the all absorbing question of caucus or no caucus is one upon which Union men may honestly differ. So think the Republicans throughout the State

POLITICAL NOTES

The result of the Republican primaries in Nevada is said to indicate that Jones is the choice for Senator. Senator Nye is his competitor

On last Thursday night the German Grant Club of San Francisco had a grand torchlight procession, in which 700 voters marched. They afterwards were addressed by eloquent speakers and a great deal of enthusiasm was manifested

The Toledo Blade thus replies to an anxious correspondent "Abram—If your father will still persist in betting on Greeley there is but one way to save his estate. Get out a writ of lunacy. Any court will grant it on a statement of the case

CITY.

FROM COLONEL FLINT —A ... Colonel Edward A Flint to a friend in this city has already been received It is dated Cu... August ... The following are some extracts ... present abode is to be home of the Incas and in some respects a desirable place to work in but ... where I should care to pass my life I have charge of a railroad 12 miles long whose lowest elevation is 10,000 feet above the sea the ... and whose summit is 14,500 feet At the present time—the winter—it is pretty cold At the summit the thermometer got down to 1 ... Fahrenheit during the night and ... during the day Here about August ... is not so cold and the people live in huts ... by wrapping up ... The summer is the rainy season and we have an according ... all accounts plenty of rain accompanied with much thunder and lightning The electricity is so abundant that in passing the Andes people are not uncommonly knocked off their horses The country is all under cultivation even to the summits of the mountains and is really worth looking at and the scenery is fine We have many large towns along the line but the whole country is behind the age an old settled country with people who have ... their notion a...

Peru has just passed through a revolution It commenced in Lima, on the 22d of July by Gutierez, making Balta the President, prisoner, declaring himself dictator, and then murdering Balta. The people arose on the 23d killed Gutierez and his three brothers who were great scoundrels hung them to lamp posts and then burned them in the Plaza The Congress met and on the 2d of August the new President just chosen by the people, was inaugurated

When the news arrived here of Gutierez being Dictator, it caused some excitement and ten soldiers rebelled one night and threatened to sack the city, killing one or two unfortunate persons who happened to be in the streets We barricaded our houses and armed ourselves, but the night passed without further troubles and the next day everything was quiet and no further trouble is expected

"By next April I am in hopes the Puno Railroad will be finished so that travelers will not have to ride over 200 miles in the saddle, and the worst part of the route will be passed in the cars As it is at present by the road from Arequipa, you have to pass an altitude of from 15,000 to 16,500 feet, and have to make in one day sixteen leagues Then the Seroche is troublesome It is a sickness caused by the rarity of the atmosphere which is not unlike sea sickness I came in one night and could not eat my dinner but was all right next morning Maxwell is with me and doing first rate He didn't take kindly to the climate at first, but now is all right working hard, and much disgusted with ... native assistants, who wont turn out early enough in the morning nor work hard enough to suit him H Bissell, formerly of the N P R R, is with me and is located at the summit of the railroad, 14 500 feet above the level of the sea"

PREVENTION OF CRUELTY —Allusions have been made from time to time in this paper and the press generally of the city in reference to many instances of almost inhuman cruelty exercised by drivers Teams as a general rule are overloaded and compelled to draw burdens up steep grades under the lash remorselessly applied far beyond their strength, The attention of the authorities has been frequently called to the matter without effect and the organization of a society for the prevention of such cruelties has been agitated with similar unsatisfactory results However such a society could effect but little unless backed by a pointed, special law rendering a violation of its provisions punishable by fine and imprisonment No such law has yet been honored with a place in our statute book Humane societies such as are organized in many of the large cities East would avail but little in the prevention of cruelties to animals, except exercising a certain moral ... unless aided by some Legislative enactment. We are gratified to note that such a bill is now before the Legislature of the State, offered by Mr Caples of this county The bill is ... the House, having been read the first time ... the 17th inst. The first and principal ... we insert, which reads as follows

SECTION 1 Whoever overdrives overloads, ... when overloaded, overworks, tortures, torments, deprives of necessary sustenance, cruelly beats, mutilates, or cruelly kills, or causes, or ... to be so overdriven, overloaded, driven overloaded, overworked, tortured, tormented, deprived of necessary sustenance, cruelly beaten, mutilated, or cruelly killed any animal, and whoever having the charge or custody of any animal, either as owner, or otherwise, in... any unnecessary cruelty upon the same, or unnecessarily fails to provide the same with proper food, drink, shelter or protection from the weather, shall for every such offense be punished by imprisonment in the County Jail of the county where such offense shall be committed, or where a conviction thereof shall be had, not exceeding one year, or by fine, not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

The necessity for such a law has long been felt ... ally in Portland where horses are so extensively used, and employed in so many different ways. By every consideration of humanity, House bill No ... should become a law

AN ESCAPADE —Portland is a very prolific ... no in that particular sense which would naturally be inferred—but for runaways. Yesterday we had the usual one A horse attached to a bread wagon started on First street, and ... tearing down at a rate which was a caution to ...makers and pedestrians The scared "animile" cleared a pathway—shining in the bargain—among fleeing oatmen and drivers At the intersection of Alder street, the horse made a sweep ... "dive" for the show windows of Higley & ...'s drug store The horse went for that window, and so did the bread wagon. Both ... the horse rolled over but the bread ... didn't, but then it stuck The horse ... a furious kick at the window, he stood it like a hero, but the glass didn't Two large ... window panes "passed in their checks," and a ... of "Jocky Club" and cologne bottles gave up the ghost and their fragrant contents The ... horse—it was a strawberry roan—concluded it was no fool job to capture a drug store and two ... clerks The effort wasn't a success The roan, with a bleeding hoof, jumped up and leaving the vehicle and bread behind made for ...man's Dollar Store Roany didn't go for the dollar, but he went for the crockery, and ... in two seconds about twenty dollars worth into smithereens besides nearly getting away with the corpulent proprietor, two clerks and a lady customer All saved their bacon, but didn't save the crockery Roany got up and dusted. Along the sidewalk he flew and so did the crowd The crowd beat ... Coming to ... street Roany's footing slipped and down he tumbled Before he could rise—although he was nearly as quick as Phoenix—he was captured ... a general scare and about ... worth of crockery So much for yesterday's usual runaway With a christian like resignation we shall wait for the next Moral Use a strong halter and don't trust horse flesh

BUILDING NEEDED —One among the needed buildings required by this city is a Morgue or Dead House. Scarcely a week passes but what bodies are recovered of persons either found ... who die from some known or unknown causes In all cases when there are ... for doubts as to the cause producing death, inquests are held over the remains To enable the coroner and jurors to make thorough and searching investigation and to arrive at the truth, post mortem examinations of bodies are often a necessary portion of the inquest Subjects for inquests are now either removed to the undertaker's for the needed examination or else in the case of murder or accidental killing the bodies remain where the tragic affair may have occurred. The physician who may be called upon to make the after death examination as circumstances now exist, necessarily labors under disadvantages There always exists a prurient curiosity with the public to witness such proceedings however ... ing to all but accustomed professional senses Such occurrences invariably have the effect ... draw together a crowd of idle curious persons The less publicity given to such necessary work except what is absolutely required in prosecuting the investigations the better A small building or even a room in some less public portion of the city where security against intrusion ... could be had would answer the present exigencies in this direction for some time to come Portland is ... metropolitan dimensions and demands What other cities have regarded as necessary for the public welfare and interest, and accordingly provided for, this one needs The dead should be provided for as well as the living A small outlay of money would meet the public requirements It is to be hoped the authorities will take some action in the premises

SAILING RACE —A sailing race took place on the river a few days ago between the yachts Fleetwing and Owl The O... was first, or one,

INTERNAL REVENUE MATTERS —We publish the following extracts from an official circular from the Internal Revenue Department The tax upon instruments now required by law to be stamped will cease as regards all instruments documents, writings or papers that may be issued on and after the first day of October next, excepting only bank checks drafts or orders The tax upon proprietary articles most used in schedule C remains and will continue on and after October 1st as per instructions contained in Series C No 10 and in schedule of August [illegible] 1872 excepting upon the following articles embraced under the head of canned sauces etc which are exempted by the act of March 3 1872 viz Sauces sirups prepared mustard jams and jellies For the information of purchasers of stamps who may have unused documentary stamps on hand on the first of October 1872 and ask reimbursements for the same officers are notified that Congress has made no appropriation for the redemption of such stamps in money but they may be exchanged at this office at par for check and proprietary stamps upon application therefor accompanied by the stamps

RAILROAD COLLISION —Two construction trains collided yesterday morning about eight miles north of Oakland One of the trains were stationary at the time when the other train came up from behind A car between the colliding locomotives was smashed to pieces Some five or six Chinamen, who were on the track, were run over and instantly killed The locomotives were but slightly damaged No further particulars could be obtained of the accident owing to the lateness of the hour A full account will be received to day by telegraph

FOR SAN JUAN —Company "H," of the 21st Infantry, stationed for some time at Vancouver, were conveyed from that place down to the mouth of the Wallamet last Saturday on the steamer ... The company were transferred to the steamer California bound for the north This company will be taken to San Juan and stationed there There were over 50 men in the company As the steamer was leaving the wharf at Vancouver the military band at the post came down and played a farewell air to their comrades as they glided away

COMPLETED —The fine oil painting, from the brush of Mr Coughlin representing the confluence of the Wallamet and Columbia rivers the Cascades, Mount Hood and the steamers Oneonta and Gussie Telfair, an extended description of which was given several weeks ago, is now completed and elegantly framed The painting, including the frame, 5 by 8 feet, is one of the largest as well as most elegantly executed paintings in the State It is fit to grace any parlor or art conservatory, and should command a large price

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION —The Democrats of Clark county Washington Territory, held a convention at Vancouver last Saturday The ticket is said to be unexceptionable in every particular, but does not stand the slightest chance of being victorious in the November contest The ticket placed in the field by the Republicans last spring before the Territorial election was postponed, stands without alteration and has been pronounced satisfactory and plenty strong enough to defeat the Democracy

BEAR MEAT —Two bears came down to Portland instead of Charleston, to "see what they could see" yesterday These are the same animals which belong to Mr Johnson of East Portland and have been kept confined at the Park for the last three months We learn these animals have been purchased by Mr Henry Gasling, and will be slaughtered in a few days Who bids for bear steak

TO THE FRONT —Track laying on the North Pacific Railroad, is being rapidly pushed ahead The cars have been running a distance of 35 miles from Kalama—northward—but in the course of three weeks, trains will be running regularly to the end of Hallett's grade, and within 15 miles of Olympia

FINE STOCK —Mr Spaulding of this city, recently purchased about forty head of splendid beef cattle from a farmer in Douglas county As Mr S will take a stall in the new market, he will keep on hand and for sale some of this excellent beef The cattle are in fine condition for the market

PURIFIED —The late rains have produced a magical effect on the atmosphere The fires raging in the mountains have been extinguished and the smoke which has afflicted us for the past month or more, has been dispelled—whether permanently or only for the present, time can reveal

LAID —The track for the street cars has been laid to Vine street, on First The work is being pushed as vigorously as possible The Nicolson pavement has been reached, and the track laying will be accelerated at the rate of about two blocks per day, no grading being necessary

FOR THE NORTH —The steamer California, which sailed for the North last Saturday carried away the following passengers O F Winsor and wife Mrs T W Traylor, Mrs Edestein Miss Smith Col Laddington F Reynolds U S A, Lieut Hoy Lieut Eleskern and ten in steerage

CATTLE AND SHEEP —Forty head of sheep and sixty head of cattle were taken yesterday morning on the boat for the Dalles This stock is destined for the extensive grazing regions of Eastern Oregon where they will be wintered

FAST STOCK —Several head of fast horses arrived last evening from the Dalles These horses belong to Messrs Bybee and Irving and will run at the Linn County Fair, which commences this morning

Dead in the Air

THE MYSTERIOUS CORPSES

A Lisbon letter, dated July 18th 187[illegible] says that a couple of days ago that beautiful city was thrown into a state of great excitement by the sudden arrival of a transatlantic guest who did not come by steamer but through the air. Some fishermen who were living in a little village two leguas from Lisbon were pursuing their piscatorial occupation early in the morning, when they say a sight which made them shiver. From the west there came, carried by the morning breeze floating through the air a huge body. The superstitious fisheremen thought it was the "Flying Duthman" or some other supernatural thing. So they fled to the shore.

The balloon, for such it was came nearer and nearer the shore dipping it's anchor in the waves. On the shore the anchor caught hold, and some courageous men from the village, who at last dared to approach it fastened and secured the balloon in which they found two dead bodies. That of a young lovely woman, and of mulatto man. The head of this mulatto was penetrated with revolver balls, and his right shoulder was torn into pieces, as if something had gnawed the flesh off it. The young woman was lying on the bottom of the car with open mouth and ghastly opened eyes.

The Coroner was summoned and an inquest held. On the mulatto there was nothing found which could tend to explain the mystery. But the pocket of the young lady contained some letters, written in the Spanish language, and at her side, on the bottom of the car, was found a book—a sort of a diary. The letters were addressed to Signora Angelina Rysworth, Calle de Bolivar Caracas. By these letters it was shown that the balloon had crossed the Atlantic Ocean as Caracas is a city in the Republic of Venezuela, South America.

But the diary contained yet more information, which threw a glaring light over the whole mystery.

The diary commenced three years ago. It gives in brief notes a graphic sketch of love and jealousy. The maiden name of the young woman was Angelina Merida. She had many admirers, but did not love any of them. One of the young men who was most desperately in love with her was a mulatto, Daniel Fignola. The diary of his passionate and impetuous wooing. She did not love him—nay she hated and despised him. Infuriated by her resistence to his wishes, he determined that she should be his by any means. Once when she went to church she was suddenly lifted up and thrown into a coach which rapidly drove away. But her loud cries for help were heard by an Englishman named Rysworth, who, with two other men, rushed to her assistance, stopped the coach by shooting one of the horses, and liberated her from the fiendish mulatto.

Rysworth was an Englishman, as I said before, and an æronaut. He made a very good living at Caracas. In a garden his balloon was fastened to heavy anchors, and let up and down with passengers who wanted to look down on mother earth from a distance of about five hundred yards. Signora Angelina describes him in her diary as a man of fine physique and rare beauty. His hair and mustache were of the light blonde color, which is so much admired by the Spanish ladies. She fell in love with him and he with her. They were married. Now the rage of the mulatto, Daniel Fignola, knew no bounds. He foamed with fury and vowed revenge.

Time went on. Rysworth and his wife lived happily together. Signora Angelina used sometimes to go up in the balloon with lady passengers.

One day, when she had just stepped into the car, and everything in readiness for an ascension, the mulatto, quick as lightning pushed his way through the crowd of ladies surrounding the balloon, jumped into the car and cut the rope. It was the work of a moment. The balloon ascended rapidly amid the shrieks of the unfortunate Angelina and soon disappeared from the sight of the terrified and thunder struck spectators among whom was the æronaut, Mr Rysworth almost frantic with grief. Alone in the air with her cruel foe, what a terrible fate for the poor Angelina.

But she was a courageous woman. When the black scoundrel approached her she snatched a revolver which was always placed in a pocket of the car and blew his brains out.

But what now to do? Alone she was—alone in mid air. The Atlantic Ocean rolling its heavy waves a couple of thousand yards under her feet. No one to help her no one to free her from this terrible and miserable position.

Day after day the balloon continued its voyage across the Atlantic day after day the doomed woman hoped to see an end of her miseries but none came. She had nothing to eat, nothing to drink. When she passed six days and nights without food, the hunger made her desperate, she attacked the corpse of the mulatto, and gnawed the flesh from the dead man's shoulder. But only for a few moments. The odor of the corpse was too terrible. "Rather die than eat human flesh," she writes in her diary. This book was her only solace. She knew that she was going to die but she wanted that her beloved husband should know her fate know that she died unpolluted, and with only one thought—that of meeting him, her all in Heaven.

This diary written between heaven and earth is a masterpiece of female eloquence.

The corpses of the beautiful Angelina Rysworth and the beastly Daniel Fignola were yesterday interred in the Church of Sonhao.

The murdered murderer occupies a grave alongside of his victim.

WOMAN'S INFLUENCE.—Whatever political theorists may say, the destiny of the human race is in the hands of the women and their citadel and throne is home. No place deserves the name of home where woman is not seated in her womanly character. And whenever woman dwells in her honest and chaste relations she is the advance of her male companions—her husband brothers children in whatsoever is honest and of good report. Let them but follow her counsels—it may be timid still judicious let them heed her warnings impulsive perhaps—perhaps illogical but always having an intuition as their foundation and they cannot greatly wander. Woman's character and influence is the complement of man's nature. And whenever man and woman agree in the efforts to make home pure and happy the inmates of that household have a protection better than all the Solons among law givers could devise. The family is a divine institution old as the race of man and he or she who profanes it is guilty of sacrilege.

It is reported that the younger Bennett has given orders for a magnificent monument to his father intended to be the finest in Greenwood. The price is unlimited but it is estimated that it will cost not less than $250,000. The shaft is to be of white marble elaborately sculptured with symbolical figures representing the profession of journalism. The inscription will simply be "James Gordon Bennett," with age and date and founder of New York Herald.

Death of Mrs Matthews the Mother of Schuyler Colfax

We take the following notice of Mrs Matthews mother of Schuyler Colfax from the Register of the [illegible] published at South Bend. It is a well deserved tribute to the memory of a noble woman. The many friends of her worthy son in Oregon will join him in mourning for her departure and exalting her virtues.

Mrs Hannah D Matthews [illegible] of Vice President Colfax [illegible] at the home of her son this city Sunday afternoon August 11th at 1 [illegible]. The disease which [illegible] made its appearance about sixty years ago although the terrible certainty of its character was not fully apparent until 1868. For many months the dreadful suspicion of its presence was kept from the family. Inch by inch the insiduous and unyielding agent of death has been fought by Mr Matthews and Mr Colfax. Every remedy known to science has been faithfully tested in the desperate hope of success. Temporary relief a procrastination of the final end was all that could be effected. Very often during the later months of her life she has suffered excruciatingly but at the very last all pain seemed to have left her and her dying moments were passed in perfect peace leaving on the dead face a smile of calm restfulness and content. Her last movement on earth was expressive of a desire to kiss her agonized husband who was bending over her.

Mrs Matthews was born in New York city March 21st 180[illegible] and was consequently at her death sixty seven years of age. She was married when only fifteen years old to Schuyler Colfax Sen who protested against waiting any longer as they had already been engaged for three years. He died of consumption a short time before the birth of the second child of her union the son who bears his name. In 1834 the widow became the wife of Mr George W Matthews with whom she has lived all these years, in bonds of love and affection amounting to little less than utter devotion. The family emigrated to New Carlisle in this county in 1836. Here Mrs Matthews organized a Sabbath School the first country school of the kind in the county and as no other room was available she threw open for its use her own home. In this work of her heart pursued under many and trying disadvantages she was zealously seconded by her husband and son both of whom taught in the school and in other ways forwarded her efforts. In 1841 the family changed their residence to this city.

The life of this noble woman is full of lessons of patient endurance, heroic endeavor, tender and abiding love boundless charity christian forgiveness and resignation which is testified to by all whose good fortune it was to know her daily life. Not only was her society a delight and comfort to those who knew her here but she was so highly esteemed in Washington where for five years she presided at the home of her son during his Speakership. Among others at that time who were especial friends of Mrs Matthews was Abraham Lincoln.

The following tribute to her worth clipped from the Monday's Inter Ocean is from the pen of one who knew her well at the Capitol.

Mrs Matthews the mother of Vice President Colfax died yesterday afternoon at the residence of her son, in South Bend Indiana. Mrs Matthews was so widely known throughout the length and breadth of the land that the news of her death will cause a pang to a host proud to be called her friends. She was best known perhaps as a member of Washington society as the presiding genius at the receptions of her son. Hospitable in feeling genial in manner kind at heart and brilliant in conversation she will long be remembered by those who knew her with feelings of admiration respect and affection. Her disease was cancer, of five or six years standing.

The funeral was held at 3 o clock, Tuesday afternoon at the house. All the business houses and offices were closed, and a large concourse of people assembled to pay the final tribute of respect to the deceased. The obsequies were conducted by the Rev N D Williamson, of the Reformed Church and were felt by all to be peculiarly impressive and appropriate.

At the conclusion of the services at the house, an opportunity was offered the many hundreds present for a last look at the body. The coffin, of rosewood was of a beautiful design and costly finish. The procession of carriages to the cemetery was one of the largest ever seen in this city.

Thousands of friends here and elsewhere, will share the sorrow which clouds the hearts of the bereaved relatives and will extend to them the sincerest commiseration.

THE FORCE OF HABIT.—"John has been to New Haven, and this is what he saw. Yesterday I saw a pale haggard looking cuss sneaking through the bushes back of the barn. I watched the chap and saw him crawl into some tall grass then he drew a flask and shot himself down the throat with some gin. I says to him my friend you are from Maine? He said he was and that had got so accustomed to hiding when he took a drink of that the stuff did nt taste good in the house any more."

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

[illegible]

The Republican Party of the United States [illegible] National Convention [illegible]

[illegible]

I Dur[illegible]

[illegible] to any party or combination of men composed of those who chiefly have resisted every step of this beneficent progress.

[illegible] Complete liberty and exact equality in the enjoyment of all civil political and public rights should be established and effectually maintained throughout the Union by efficient and appropriate State and Federal legislation. Neither law nor its administration should admit of any discrimination in respect to citizens by reason of race creed color or previous condition of servitude.

3 The recent amendments to the National Constitution should be cordially sustained because they are right [illegible] and should be carried out according to their spirit by appropriate legislation the enforcement of which can be safely trusted only to the party that secured those amendments.

4 The National Government should seek to maintain an honorable peace with all nations protecting its citizens everywhere and sympathizing with all peoples who strive for greater liberty.

5 Any system of civil service under which the subordinate positions of the government are considered rewards for mere party zeal is fatally demoralizing and we therefore favor a reform of the system by a law which shall abolish the evils of patronage and make honesty efficiency and fidelity the essential qualifications for public positions without practically creating a life tenure of office.

6 We are opposed to further grants of public lands to corporations and monopolies and demand that the National domain be set apart for free homesteads by the people.

[illegible] The annual revenue after paying current debts should furnish a moderate balance for the reduction of the principal of the public debt and except so much as may be derived from a tax on tobacco and liquors should be raised by duties on importations [illegible] to secure remunerative wages to labor [illegible] promote the industries and growth and prosperity of the whole country.

8 We hold in undying honor the soldiers and sailors whose valor saved the Union. Their pensions are a sacred debt of the nation and the widows and orphans of those who died for their country are entitled to the care of a generous and grateful people. We favor such additional legislation as will extend the bounty of the Government to all our soldiers and sailors who were honorably discharged and who in the line of duty became disabled without regard to length of service or the cause of such discharge.

9 The doctrine of Great Britain and other European powers concerning allegiance [illegible] subject always a subject having at last through the efforts of the Republican party been abandoned and the American idea of the right of an individual to transfer his allegiance having been accepted by European nations. It is the duty of our Government to guard with jealous care the rights of adopted citizens against the assumption of unauthorized claims by their former Governments and we urge a continued and careful encouragement and protection to voluntary emigration.

10 The franking privilege ought to be abolished and a way proposed for reductions in the rates of postage.

11 Among the questions which press for attention is that which concerns the relations of capital and labor and the Republican party recognize the duty of shaping legislation so as to secure a full protection and ample field for capital and for labor which creates capital the largest opportunities and a just share of the mutual profits of these two great servants of civilization.

12 We hold that Congress and the President have only fulfilled an important duty in their measures for the suppression of violent and treasonable organizations in certain lately rebellious regions and for the protection of the ballot, and therefore they are entitled to the thanks of the Nation.

13 We denounce the repudiation of public debts in any form or disguise as a national crime. We witness with pride the reduction of the principal of that debt and of the rate of interest upon the balance and confidently expect that our excellent national currency will be perfected by a speedy resumption to specie payment.

14 The Republican party is mindful of its obligations to the loyal women of America for their noble devotion to the cause of freedom. Their application for admission to further usefulness is received with satisfaction and the honest demands of any class of citizens for additional rights should be treated with respectful consideration.

15 We heartily approve of the action of Congress in granting an amnesty to those engaged in the rebellion and rejoice in the growth of peace and fraternal feeling throughout the land.

16 The Republican party proposes to respect all rights reserved by the people to themselves as carefully as the powers delegated by them to the State and to the Federal governments. It disapproves of a resort to unconstitutional laws for the purpose of removing evils by the interference with rights not surrendered by the people to either the State or National Government.

1[illegible] It is the duty of the [illegible] to adopt such measures as will tend to encourage American commerce and ship building.

1[illegible] We believe that the modest patriotism the earnest purpose, sound judgment, practical wisdom, incorruptible integrity and illustrious services of U S Grant have commended him to the heart of the American people and with him at our head we start to-day upon a new career of victory.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of [illegible] and Seminal Diseases [illegible] Gonorrhea Gleet Stricture Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness Impotency etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe and has resumed practice at his Dispensary 623 Kearny street corner of Commercial San Francisco where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases,

How many thousands of persons both male and female [illegible] suffering [illegible] the effects of secret diseases [illegible] Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. [illegible] sands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents guardians friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR GIBBON a physician who has made private diseases his special study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz. Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes pain in the head ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins weakness of the limbs confused vision blunted intellect loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances disposition to shun society loss of memory hectic flushes pimples and various eruptions about the face furred tongue fetid breath [illegible] consumption night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will [illegible] satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibilities resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case symptoms length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells Fargo & Co. a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus sworn to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen and became too lazy too work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths shoemakers newspaper carriers intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus title certificates, pretended patients letters etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR J F GIBBON 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial San Francisco. Post Office Box 1 957

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1 957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

And I have made it an invariable rule to advertise in dull times as well as the busiest, long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out, as by continually keeping my business before the public it has secured many sales that I otherwise would have lost."
